

Name of Today's Speaker: _____

Giving good advice and criticism to other speakers often improves our own presentation skills. Please write your opinions as concisely and accurately as possible to each of the following questions, for today's speaker.

I. How would you rate the technical content of the talk? Think about whether the problem is important and well-defined, solutions are novel, mathematical analysis is robust, quality of experimental evaluations, deployment experiments, comparisons with other approaches.

II. How would you rate the speaker's presentation and speaking skills? Think about English skills, clarity of speaking, clarity of explanation, conciseness of explanations, handling of questions, ability to keep audience interested.

III. How would you rate the quality of the slides? Think about the conciseness of ideas, organization of slides, quality of slides, slide density, slide color schemes, pictures used, examples used, length of presentation, time per slide.

IV. Any other advice, criticisms or compliments that you would like to give today's speaker?